

Dear Provider of Disability Services,

Around the country, providers of services for people with disabilities are struggling to reduce staff turnover and retain a quality workforce. At the heart of the issue is the significant discrepancy in wages paid by State-operated providers compared to private providers for staff performing the same job functions.

To help shed light on the situation and further raise awareness among legislators around the country about this alarming issue, ANCOR is conducting its second annual survey of Direct Support Professional (DSP) wages in the United States. Last year we had provider participation from all 50 states. This year we want to expand the number of participating providers in order to provide you with a more in-depth comparative analysis of DSP wages by state, urban and rural areas.

This is where we need your help.

We invite you to become a part of the solution in addressing the discrepancy in DSP wages by clicking on the SurveyMonkey link below and completing the survey questions about your organization by November 2, 2009. The survey is brief and should take no more than a few minutes to complete. You can also find the link on the ANCOR website at www.ancor.org.

ANCOR has contracted with The Mosaic Collaborative for Disabilities Public Policy and Practice to complete the study. All individual provider data will be kept strictly confidential. Published results will be represented as aggregate data and your individual responses will not be identifiable in any dissemination of the study results. Participating providers will receive a complimentary electronic copy of the 2009 DSP Wage Study just prior to the official public release.

If you have questions or would like additional information about the survey, please contact:
